A Foundational Leadership Opportunity in Nunavut

Igluvut Inc. is seeking a founding Chief Executive Officer to lead a newly established, well-funded nonprofit created by Nunavut Tunngavik Inc. to address the critical shortage of housing for employed Inuit. This role offers a rare opportunity to build an organization from the ground up including defining its strategy, establishing operations, and leading impactful housing initiatives that support workforce participation and strengthen communities across Nunavut. Reporting to the Board, the CEO will drive strategic planning, oversee major projects, ensure financial sustainability, and serve as the organization's primary representative while fostering strong relationships with Inuit communities, governments, and partners.

The ideal candidate is an experienced senior leader with a strong understanding of Northern Canada, preferably with Inuit connections, who brings both strategic capability and cultural awareness. They will have a proven track record in building teams, managing complex initiatives, and engaging partners, along with a deep commitment to community impact. This is a purpose-driven leadership role offering competitive compensation, relocation support, and the chance to create lasting, generational change for Inuit communities through sustainable, culturally aligned housing solutions.

The successful incumbent must be located in Nunavut. Relocation assistance and housing support is provided if required, along with a comprehensive salary and benefits package.
